

Natural Anti-Inflammatory & Pain Relief Formula

CURCUMIN III™

This effective curcumin product contains equal amounts of Standard Curcumin and Bisdemethoxycurcumin (BDMC) to quickly reduce pain and inflammation by inhibiting two key regulator proteins, NF-kb and MSK1, in the inflammation pathway! This new level of BDMC, a patented curcumin extract technology called Curcumin BDMC50™, is a new standard of anti-inflammatory therapeutics that not only affects inflammatory markers adversely but also provides improved stability and bioavailability for the other curcuminoids. This ultimately results in significant impact on a variety of hard-to-treat health conditions.

CURCUMIN III TM can be used for many medical conditions due to its broad spectrum of applications. It is an effective antioxidant, an inflammatory/immune modulator, an anti-microbial and in general is indicated in many condition-specific disorders listed in our Research section.

CURCUMIN III TM has both Standard Curcumin and augmented levels of bisdemethoxycurcumin (BDMC). This provides for three therapeutic considerations when prescribing: as a source of Standard Curcumin, a source of BDMC, or both. Because the Curcumin BDMC50TM technology is patented, there is no other curcumin product on the market that gives you this flexibility, making it a very important therapeutic tool for your patients' health.
